Specialist Dementia Facilities

Dementia and dementia related conditions such as Alzheimer's disease and other conditions with confusion is an increasing problem for older people and causes additional pressure for families and carers.

At Albany House, through our many years of experience in caring for people with dementia, we understand the complex issues that families face. It is our aim to improve the quality of life for everyone affected by dementia by offering unique healthcare services. We encourage family and friends to be a part of the ongoing care plan.

Our home is a bright and positive environment and there are no set visiting times. We encourage families to actively participate in care provision, for example, at meal times or by participating in social events and activities.

Our dementia unit is known as Albany Court, which is a purpose built secure unit providing specialist care for clients with dementia. Our home provides a program of fun and stimulating exercises.

Care at Albany House

The care that we offer is entirely focused on the careful evaluation of the residents changing needs through a comprehensive set of assessments carried out prior to admission which allow us to ensure that Albany House can meet both our residents needs and improve their quality of life. An individually tailored, detailed plan of how care will be delivered is agreed at the outset and reviewed regularly with the resident, ensuring understanding and inspiring confidence.

The key worker scheme is highly effective, our experience proving that carers gain a greater understanding of a specific individual and are thus able to notice deteriorations or improvements in the residents' well being. Better understanding means that care can remain discreet and the level of support adjusted according to need.

Food is of course a very important part of daily life at Albany House. Meals can be taken in a choice of two dining rooms. We take pride in the variety and quality of our cuisine, which is freshly prepared in our kitchen. Special dietary needs and cultural preferences are also catered for.

Please call our manager to arrange a visit. We look forward to welcoming you.

If you wish to view our home, we would only be too pleased to show you around, where you can chat with the residents, the staff and the manager. We are sure that you will appreciate Albany House is one of the finest retirement homes in the area.
